Guest Lecture

Date of Lecture: 30/08/2025

Venue: Jijamata College of Pharmacy, Sarati

Speaker: Vijay B. Todekar, Cipla Limited, Goa

Topic: Industrial Manufacturing Process – Granulation

Introduction

On 30th Aug 2025, Jijamata College of Pharmacy, Sarati, had the privilege of hosting a guest lecture by Mr. Vijay B. Todekar, an experienced professional working at Cipla Limited, Goa. Mr. Vijay B. Todekar was the Alumni of Jijamata college of Pharmacy, Sarati and Passed the Diploma in the year 2020. The lecture focused on the industrial manufacturing process of granulation, a key process in the pharmaceutical industry. Mr. Todekar's session was well-received by the students and faculty members present, providing invaluable insights into the intricacies of pharmaceutical manufacturing.

Objective of the Lecture

The primary objective of the guest lecture was to provide students with a practical understanding of the granulation process, which is essential in the production of solid dosage forms, such as tablets and capsules. Mr. Todekar aimed to bridge the gap between academic knowledge and industrial practices, showcasing the real-world applications of granulation in the pharmaceutical industry.

Key Highlights of the Lecture

1. Introduction to Granulation:

Mr. Todekar began the lecture by explaining the concept of granulation, which is the process of agglomerating powders into granules. This process is crucial for improving the flow properties, compressibility, and uniformity of the powder used in tablet manufacturing.

2. Types of Granulation:

He described the two main types of granulation:

- Wet Granulation: Involves the use of a liquid binder to form a wet mass, followed by drying and sieving.

- Dry Granulation: Involves the compression of powder into tablets without the use of liquid binders, commonly used for heat-sensitive drugs.
- 3. Granulation Equipment:
The lecture covered the various equipment used in granulation, including high shear mixers, fluidized bed dryers, and rotary tablet presses. Mr. Todekar explained how each equipment plays a pivotal role in ensuring the granules formed have the desired properties for tablet formulation.
- 4. Quality Control in Granulation:
He emphasized the importance of quality control throughout the granulation process. Factors like moisture content, particle size distribution, and uniformity of the granules are critical to ensure the final product meets the required specifications.
- 5. Challenges in Granulation:
Mr. Todekar shared some of the common challenges faced during the granulation process, including issues like caking, over-granulation, and uneven drying. He also discussed the methods used to overcome these challenges in a manufacturing setting.
- 6. Case Studies from Cipla:
Drawing from his experience at Cipla Limited, Mr. Todekar shared real-life case studies of how granulation is applied in the manufacturing of pharmaceutical products. These case studies provided valuable insights into the practical challenges and solutions involved in large-scale production.

Conclusion

The lecture by Mr. Vijay B. Todekar was an enriching experience for the students and faculty at Jijamata College of Pharmacy. His expertise and detailed explanation of the industrial manufacturing process of granulation provided a clear understanding of the importance of this process in pharmaceutical production. The session was a great opportunity for students to learn from an industry expert and gain valuable knowledge that will assist them in their future careers in the pharmaceutical field.

Feedback from Students:

The students expressed their appreciation for the interactive nature of the lecture, particularly the real-life examples and the practical approach to explaining the granulation process. Many students found the session highly informative and inspiring for their career aspirations in the pharmaceutical industry.

Guest Lecture

Date: 25th September 2025

Venue: Jijamata College of Pharmacy

Speaker: Mr. Ajit Gandhi

Introduction

On 25th September 2025, Jijamata College of Pharmacy, Sarati, organized an insightful guest lecture on “Blood Donation Camp and the Importance of Blood Donation”. The session was conducted by the esteemed speaker, Mr. Ajit Gandhi, a well-known social activist and health educator with years of experience promoting healthcare awareness, especially regarding blood donation.

Objectives of the Lecture

- To educate students about the significance of blood donation.
- To create awareness about the process, safety, and myths associated with blood donation.
- To motivate students to actively participate in blood donation drives.
- To promote a spirit of social responsibility and community service among youth.

Session Highlights

Mr. Ajit Gandhi began the session with a powerful introduction emphasizing the critical shortage of blood in hospitals and how a single donation can save up to three lives. He explained the science and safety behind the blood donation process, making sure to debunk common myths that often discourage people from donating. He highlighted key facts such as:

- Blood donation is safe and does not weaken the donor.
- A healthy individual can donate blood every 3 months (male) or 4 months (female).
- Donated blood is screened and processed before transfusion, ensuring safety for both donor and recipient.

Mr. Gandhi also shared real-life stories and statistics to illustrate the impact of voluntary blood donation, which inspired the audience. He concluded by urging students to not only donate blood themselves but also encourage others in their families and communities.

Student Interaction

The session was highly interactive, with students asking numerous questions related to eligibility, side effects, and post-donation care. Mr. Gandhi addressed each query with clarity and patience, further boosting the students' confidence and willingness to participate in future blood donation activities.

Conclusion

The guest lecture by Mr. Ajit Gandhi was a great success, leaving a lasting impression on the students and faculty. It served as a catalyst for awareness and a reminder of the power of small acts of kindness like blood donation.

The management of Jijamata College of Pharmacy expressed gratitude to Mr. Gandhi for his valuable time and insights. The college also announced its plan to host a blood donation camp in the coming weeks, encouraging all students to take part and contribute to this noble cause'

Guest Lecture

Date: 10th October 2025

Venue: Jijamata College of Pharmacy, Sarati.

Audience: 2nd Year D .Pharm Students

Speaker: Dr. S. S. Shivpuje

Designation: Executive, Formulation R&D

Company: Flamingo Pharmaceutical Pvt. Ltd., Navi Mumbai

1. Introduction

On 10th October 2025, Jijamata College of Pharmacy organized a guest lecture on the occasion of the 3rd National cGMP Day. The session was conducted for 2nd year D .Pharm students to help them understand the importance of Current Good Manufacturing Practices (cGMP) in the pharmaceutical industry.

The speaker for the session was Dr. S. S. Shivpuje, who is currently working as an Executive in the Formulation Research and Development department at Flamingo Pharmaceuticals Pvt. Ltd., Navi Mumbai.

2. About the Speaker

Dr. Shivpuje holds an M.Pharm and a Ph.D. He has experience in formulation development and manufacturing processes in the pharma industry. He shared real-world experiences from his work to help students understand how cGMP is implemented in actual production environments.

3. Key Points Covered in the Lecture

Dr. Shivpuje explained several important topics in a clear and practical way:

- What is cGMP?

cGMP stands for Current Good Manufacturing Practices. These are rules and guidelines followed by pharma companies to ensure the quality, safety, and effectiveness of medicines.

- Why cGMP is Important

cGMP ensures that medicines are made in a clean, controlled environment and are free from errors or contamination.

- Regulatory Bodies

He explained how Indian laws (like Schedule M) and international regulations (like US FDA, WHO GMP) are followed by companies.

Cultural head

Co-culture head

Principal

- Facilities and Equipment

Dr. Shivpuje talked about the importance of proper equipment, clean rooms, water systems, and HVAC systems in a manufacturing plant.

- Role of People

Trained staff, proper hygiene, and personal protective equipment (PPE) play a major role in maintaining product quality.

- Documentation

Every step in the manufacturing process must be recorded properly. Dr. Shivpuje stressed on data integrity and the ALCOA principles.

- Process Validation

He explained how companies test and validate their processes to make sure they always produce quality products.

- Handling Deviations and Audits

If something goes wrong, it must be recorded and corrected. Companies also go through regular audits by regulatory bodies.

4. Student Interaction and Experience

- The session was interactive and students asked many questions.
- Dr. Shivpuje answered them with patience and gave real-life examples.
- Students learned how the pharma industry works beyond textbooks.

5. Feedback and Suggestions

- The session was very helpful and informative.
- Students suggested that more such lectures or workshops should be arranged.
- A virtual or real tour of a pharmaceutical plant would help in better understanding.

6. Conclusion

The guest lecture by Dr. S. S. Shivpuje was very useful for all students. It gave a clear idea about cGMP and how it is followed in the industry. The session helped bridge the gap between theoretical knowledge and practical application. Such lectures motivate students to learn more about pharmaceutical manufacturing, quality assurance, and regulatory affairs.
