Blood Donation Camp

Date: 07 September 2026

Venue: Jijamata College of Pharmacy, Sarati

Organizer: Jijamata College of Pharmacy, Sarati

Introduction

Jijamata College of Pharmacy, Sarati organized a Blood Donation Camp on 07/09/26 at the college premises with the objective of creating awareness among students and staff about the importance of voluntary blood donation and encouraging the spirit of social responsibility.

Blood donation is a noble social activity that helps save the lives of patients requiring blood during surgeries, accidents, medical emergencies, childbirth complications and various other medical conditions. The camp provided an opportunity for students, teaching staff and non-teaching staff to contribute towards this important social cause.

Objectives of the Camp

The major objectives of the Blood Donation Camp were:

1. To create awareness regarding the importance of voluntary blood donation.
2. To encourage students and staff to participate in social welfare activities.
3. To promote the concept of "Donate Blood, Save Lives."
4. To educate participants about blood donation, eligibility and safety precautions.
5. To develop a sense of social responsibility and community service among pharmacy students.
6. To contribute to the availability of safe blood for patients in need.

Activities Conducted

The camp commenced with a brief introduction about the importance of blood donation. The medical team explained the eligibility criteria, precautions and procedure involved in blood donation.

The donors were first registered and their basic health parameters were checked, including blood pressure, pulse rate, haemoglobin level and general health status. Eligible donors were then guided through the blood donation procedure by trained medical personnel.

After donation, donors were provided with refreshments and advised to take adequate rest and maintain proper hydration. Certificates/acknowledgement were provided to participating donors as applicable.

Outcome of the Activity

The Blood Donation Camp was successfully conducted with active participation and cooperation from the college community. The activity helped create awareness regarding voluntary blood donation and motivated students and staff to contribute to society.

The camp also provided students with practical exposure to a community-oriented healthcare activity and strengthened their sense of responsibility towards public health.

Conclusion

The Blood Donation Camp organized by Jijamata College of Pharmacy, Sarati was a meaningful social initiative. The enthusiastic participation of students and staff demonstrated their commitment towards community welfare.

The college appreciates the efforts of the medical team, organizers, volunteers, donors and all staff members who contributed to the successful completion of the camp.

Guest Lecture

Date: 07/09/2026

Venue: Jijamata College of Pharmacy, Sarati

Topic: Personality Development

Guest Speaker: Mr. M. D. Sonwane

Organized by: Jijamata College of Pharmacy, Sarati

Participants: Students and Teaching Staff

Introduction

Jijamata College of Pharmacy, Sarati organized a Guest Lecture on "Personality Development" on 7th September 2026 for the benefit of the students. The session was delivered by Mr. M. D. Sonwane, who shared valuable guidance and practical insights regarding the development of personality, communication skills, confidence and professional behaviour. Personality development is an important aspect of pharmacy education because pharmacy professionals are required to communicate effectively with patients, healthcare professionals, colleagues and the community. Effective communication and interpersonal skills contribute significantly to professional confidence and patient interaction.

Objectives of the Guest Lecture

The major objectives of the programme were:

- To create awareness among students about the importance of personality development.
- To improve students' communication and interpersonal skills.
- To develop self-confidence and a positive attitude.
- To encourage students to identify and improve their strengths and weaknesses.
- To develop leadership and teamwork qualities.
- To improve presentation and public-speaking skills.
- To prepare students for interviews and future professional opportunities.
- To encourage students to develop a professional attitude and positive body language.

Programme Proceedings

The programme commenced with a warm welcome to Mr. M. D. Sonwane, the Principal, teaching staff and students of Jijamata College of Pharmacy, Sarati.

The guest speaker introduced the concept of personality development and explained that academic knowledge alone is not sufficient for achieving professional success. Students also need effective communication, confidence, discipline, positive thinking, teamwork and appropriate professional behaviour. Mr. M. D. Sonwane interacted with the students and provided practical guidance on developing a confident and positive personality. He emphasized the importance of self-awareness, regular practice, effective communication and continuous self-improvement.

Major Points Discussed

During the session, the following important aspects of personality development were discussed:

A. Self-Confidence

Students were encouraged to develop confidence in their abilities and overcome hesitation while communicating with others.

B. Communication Skills

The importance of clear, effective and respectful communication was explained. Students were encouraged to improve both verbal and non-verbal communication skills.

C. Positive Attitude

The speaker emphasized maintaining a positive attitude towards studies, challenges, failures and future career opportunities.

D. Body Language

Students were made aware of the importance of appropriate posture, eye contact, facial expressions, gestures and overall professional appearance.

E. Time Management

The importance of proper time management, punctuality and prioritization of academic and professional responsibilities was highlighted.

F. Leadership and Teamwork

Students were encouraged to develop leadership qualities and learn to work effectively as members of a team.

G. Interview Skills

The speaker provided guidance regarding confidence, communication, presentation and appropriate behaviour during interviews and professional interactions.

H. Self-Awareness and Continuous Improvement

Students were encouraged to identify their strengths and areas requiring improvement and to continuously work towards personal and professional growth.

Importance for Pharmacy Students

Personality development plays an important role in preparing students for their future responsibilities as pharmacy professionals. Pharmacists need to communicate effectively with patients and other healthcare professionals, provide appropriate counselling and work collaboratively as part of healthcare teams. Research in pharmacy education has also highlighted the value of communication and teamwork training for improving students' confidence and professional interactions.

The session therefore provided students with useful guidance that can be applied in their academic life, internships, interviews and future professional practice.

Learning Outcomes

After attending the guest lecture, students were expected to:

- Understand the importance of personality development.
- Recognize their individual strengths and areas for improvement.
- Improve their confidence and communication skills.
- Understand the importance of positive body language.
- Develop better interpersonal and teamwork skills.
- Improve their presentation and public-speaking abilities.
- Develop a positive and professional attitude.
- Become better prepared for interviews and career opportunities.

Outcome of the Programme

The guest lecture was successfully conducted with enthusiastic participation from the students and teaching staff. The session provided students with practical guidance on developing confidence, communication skills, positive thinking, leadership qualities and professional behaviour. The programme helped students understand that personality development is a continuous process and that consistent practice, self-awareness and a positive attitude are essential for personal and professional success.

Conclusion

The Guest Lecture on "Personality Development" delivered by Mr. M. D. Sonwane on 07/09/2026 at Jijamata College of Pharmacy, Sarati was informative, interactive and beneficial to the students. The session successfully motivated students to focus on their overall development along with academic knowledge. The guidance provided by the guest speaker will help students improve their confidence, communication, interpersonal skills and professional attitude, thereby preparing them for future academic and career opportunities. The programme concluded with a vote of thanks to the guest speaker, Principal, teaching staff and students for their valuable contribution and active participation.

4. To observe the general workflow of laboratory investigations.
5. To understand the importance of accurate laboratory reports in patient management.
6. To learn about the role of pharmacists and other healthcare professionals in hospital practice.
7. To understand the importance of proper documentation and record maintenance.
8. To observe the importance of infection control, hygiene and patient safety.
9. To provide practical exposure to students beyond classroom teaching.
10. To develop professional awareness among D. Pharmacy students.

Visit to Hospital Facilities

During the visit, students were introduced to the general infrastructure and functioning of the hospital.

The students gained an understanding of various aspects of hospital services, including:

- Patient registration and reception services.
- Outpatient and inpatient services.

- General hospital facilities.
- Emergency and critical care services.
- Diagnostic facilities.
- Nursing and patient-care services.
- Medical and support services.
- Importance of cleanliness and infection control.
- Coordination between different departments.

The hospital's publicly available information indicates facilities including medical ICU, diagnostic services such as CT scan and sonography, ECG, 2D Echo, digital X-ray and other specialized services.

Visit to Pathology Laboratory

The students were given an opportunity to understand the importance and functioning of the Pathology Laboratory.

The following aspects were discussed:

- Collection of biological samples.
- Proper identification and labeling of samples.
- Handling and transportation of samples.
- Basic laboratory investigation procedures.
- Importance of accuracy in laboratory testing.
- Preparation and reporting of laboratory results.
- Laboratory safety and hygiene.
- Proper disposal of biomedical waste.
- Importance of laboratory reports in diagnosis and treatment.

Apex Hospital's public information lists a 24-hour pathology laboratory among its facilities.

The visit helped students understand that laboratory investigations play an important role in supporting physicians in diagnosis, treatment planning and monitoring of patients.

Study of Apex Medical Services

Students were also introduced to the medical services and healthcare activities provided at the hospital. They gained awareness regarding:

- Medical consultation and patient assessment.
- Coordination between doctors, nurses, pharmacists and laboratory personnel.
- Diagnostic support for patient management.
- Emergency and critical care services.
- Medication-related aspects of patient care.
- Importance of rational use of medicines.

- Patient counseling and healthcare communication.

The hospital describes itself as providing multispeciality care across areas including internal medicine, pediatrics, obstetrics and gynecology, along with emergency and critical care services.

Learning Outcomes

After completion of the field visit, students were able to:

1. Explain the basic functioning of a hospital.
2. Identify important hospital facilities and services.
3. Understand the role of pathology investigations in patient care.
4. Explain the importance of proper sample collection and handling.
5. Understand the significance of accurate laboratory reports.
6. Appreciate the importance of infection control and biomedical waste management.
7. Understand interdepartmental coordination in a hospital.
8. Recognize the role of pharmacists in healthcare delivery.
9. Relate theoretical knowledge to practical hospital situations.
10. Develop professional and clinical awareness.

Conclusion

The Field Visit to Apex Hospital, Akluj, conducted on 12 September 2026, was successfully completed. The visit provided valuable practical exposure to the students of Jijamata College of Pharmacy, Sarati. Students gained knowledge about hospital facilities, pathology laboratory procedures and medical services. The field visit helped bridge the gap between theoretical classroom learning and practical healthcare applications. It also enhanced students' understanding of professional responsibilities, patient care, laboratory services and the importance of teamwork in healthcare. Overall, the visit was informative, educational and beneficial for the participating students and staff members.
